News Release

NO FARE INCREASE FOR MORE THAN 1.1 MILLION COMMUTERS

Lower-Wage Workers, Persons with Disabilities, Senior Citizens, Young Children and Commuters using Monthly Concession Passes Shielded

Public Transport Operators to Contribute
$13.5 million to Public Transport Fund

The Public Transport Council (PTC) has concluded the 2014 Fare Review Exercise. Guided by the fare adjustment formula and fare review mechanism from the Fare Review Mechanism Committee, the PTC decided to grant an overall net fare adjustment of $2.8 \%$. This is the combined fare adjustment aggregated from the $3.4 \%$ carried over from the 2013 Fare Review Exercise ${ }^{1}$, and the 2014 fare adjustment quantum which is $-0.6 \%^{2}$. Central to the PTC's recommendations is the principle that fares should be kept affordable for lower income households while ensuring the viability and sustainability of the public transport system.

The PTC has also decided to freeze senior citizen fares and the prices of existing travel concession passes, noting that the Government has decided to do likewise for the two Government-funded schemes for Lower-Wage Workers and Persons with Disabilities. In total, more than 1.1 million commuters will see their fares unchanged.

3 From 5 April 2015, adult card fares for buses and trains will increase by 2 to 5 cents while student concessionary fares will increase by 1 cent. The prices of all monthly

[^0]concession passes for adults, national servicemen, senior citizens and students will remain the same.

Cash fares for adult bus and train rides will increase by 10 cents, while senior citizen and student cash fares will remain unchanged. Commuters are strongly encouraged to use contactless smart cards, instead of paying cash fares, to enjoy lower fares for travel on public transport.

5 The PTC is also pleased to note that the Government will be introducing new offpeak travel passes for adults, Persons with Disabilities and senior citizens. These monthly passes will allow commuters who travel frequently during off-peak periods to save on their travel expenditures.

Approved Fare Adjustment Tables

6 The approved bus and train fares, which will take effect on 5 April 2015, are set out in Annex A.

Ensuring Fare Affordability

7 Bus and train fares continue to be affordable, even for lower income groups, as household income growth has generally outpaced household expenditure in public transport. In 2013, the second quintile and second decile households ${ }^{3}$ spent $2.2 \%$ and $3.1 \%$ of their monthly income on public transport, down from $3.2 \%$ and $4.6 \%$ in 2003. In fact, the proportion of their monthly income spent on public transport has been on a consistent downward trend since 2003.

8 Nevertheless, we will need to ensure that help continues to be available for needy commuters. As part of the fare review exercise, the two public transport operators will be required to contribute a portion of the increased fare revenue to the Public Transport Fund. Having considered their financial positions, the PTC decided that SBS Transit and SMRT should respectively contribute $$ 5.5$ million and $$ 8.0$ million of the increased fare revenue

[^1]to the Public Transport Fund for this exercise, or a total of $$ 13.5$ million. This is $$ 2$ million more than their contribution last year. The PTC notes that the Government will utilise the Public Transport Fund to provide Public Transport Vouchers to lower-income households to mitigate the increase in their travel expenditure.

9 Mr Richard Magnus, Chairman of the PTC said,
"In approving the fare increase and deciding on the quantum, the Council made a concerted effort to minimise the impact on commuters, even to the extent of insulating some from the increase altogether. Overall, the fare adjustments for the 2014 fare exercise are lower than last year's adjustments. I am always very concerned not only with making transport fares affordable, but making sure that our low income families who need more assistance will be looked after. The contributions to the Public Transport Fund by the operators will help defray the travel expenditure of these needy families."

10 More details of PTC's considerations for the 2014 Fare Review Exercise and highlights of the operators' applications are contained in the attached Fact Sheet.

FACT SHEET

Public Transport Fares to Increase by 2.8\% w.e.f. 5 April 2015

Fare Adjustment Formula (2014)
= Price Index - 0.5% = -0.6%
Price Index = 0.4cCPI + 0.4WI +0.2EI;
0.5%: productivity extraction set for 2013 to 2017.
Core Consumer Price Index (cCPI): the change in core
Consumer Price Index over preceding year; 1.7% in 2013.
Wage Index (WI): the change in Average Monthly
Earnings (Annual National Average) over the preceding year, adjusted to account for any change in the employer's
CPF contribution rate; 4.3% in 2013.
Energy Index (EI): the change in Energy Index which is a composite of cost changes in electricity and diesel; -12.6%
in 2013.

1. The Public Transport Council (PTC), in deciding the fare adjustment this year, has looked at the fare adjustment formula for 2014 that gives a quantum of $-0.6 \%$.
2. The fare adjustment of $2.8 \%$ granted by the PTC combines the fare adjustment quantum for $2014(-0.6 \%)$ with the fare adjustment quantum of $3.4 \%$ carried over from the 2013 Fare Review Exercise.
3. The fare adjustment formula protects the interests of commuters by capping the increase, rather than leaving it to the operators to decide what the market can bear. Commuters also benefit via a productivity extraction factor, through which the operators share their productivity gains with commuters.

Checks on Public Transport Fare Affordability

Fare Affordability Indicator (FAI) =
Monthly Household Expenditure on Public Transport
    Monthly Household Income
Indicator for second quintile households:
2.2% in 2013 - a downtrend from 3.2% (2003),
3.2% (2004), 3.2% (2005), 3.1% (2006), 3.0%
(2007), 2.7% (2008), 2.7% (2009), 2.5% (2010),
2.4% (2011), 2.3% (2012)
Indicator for second decile households:
3.1% in 2013 - a downtrend from 4.6% (2003),
4.5% (2004), 4.5% (2005), 4.4% (2006), 4.2%
(2007), 4.1% (2008), 4.1% (2009), 3.8% (2010),
3.6% (2011), 3.5% (2012)

4. To ensure that fares remain affordable, the Fare Review Mechanism Committee (FRMC) had recommended that the affordability of public transport fares should be tracked by the PTC in deciding fare adjustments. Fare affordability will be tracked for the second quintile income group households representing the average public transport user, as well as the second decile income group households.
5. With the fare adjustment granted for this exercise, public transport fares continue to stay affordable on the back of general increase in wages. The indicators for the second quintile households and second decile households show the same downtrend trend from 2003 to $2013^{4}$. In other words, these households have been spending proportionately less of their monthly income on public transport fares over the last many years, meaning that public transport fares have become more affordable for these groups.

1. Computed using data from Department of Statistics' Household Expenditure Survey (HES) for 2003, 2008 and 2013.
2. Household income refers to income from all sources and includes employers' CPF contributions. Previously, household income from the HES 2003 was published based on income excluding employers' CPF contributions. Data for HES 2003 and 2008 have been revised to include employers' CPF contributions following the latest HES 2013.
3. Decile and quintile are based on ranking of all resident households by their monthly household income from all sources, including employers' CPF contributions, per household member.

Beneficiaries of Concessions

6. As part of the 2014 Fare Review Exercise, there will be no increase in the prices of all monthly concession passes and concessionary fares for senior citizens. The PTC notes also that eligible Lower-Wage Workers and Persons with Disabilities will continue to enjoy the same concessionary fares under the Government-funded concession schemes, and that the Government will introduce new off-peak travel passes for adults, Persons with Disabilities and senior citizens. In total, more than 1.1 million commuters are expected to be shielded from the fare increase.

Impact on Commuters Paying Card Fares

7. For adult commuters, their fares will increase by 2 to 5 cents depending on the travel distance. Student concessionary fares will increase by 1 cent across the board. Senior citizen concessionary fares will remain unchanged.

| Commuter Group | Fare Adjustment |
| :---: | :---: |
| Adults | +2 to 5 cents |
|  | $(+2$ cents for up to $3.2 \mathrm{~km} ;$ |
|  | +3 cents for more than 3.2 km to $5.2 \mathrm{~km} ;$ |
|  | +4 cents for more than 5.2 km to $9.2 \mathrm{~km} ;$ |
|  | +5 cents for more than 9.2 km$)$ |
| Students | +1 cent |
| Senior Citizens | No change |

8. Adults and students who are frequent travellers may wish to consider purchasing monthly passes. Offering unlimited bus and train rides, these passes will help commuters cap their monthly fare expenditures.

Impact on Commuters Paying Cash and Single Trip Ticket Fares

9. Adult cash-paying passengers will see an increase of 10 cents. Today, fewer than $3 \%$ of total daily trips are made using cash or single trip tickets.

Impact on Public Transport Operators

10. The overall $2.8 \%$ fare increase translates to a total fare revenue increase of about $$ 48.5$ million a year. The increase in fare revenue for SBS Transit and SMRT is about $$ 21.9$ million and $$ 26.6$ million respectively.

Contributions to Public Transport Fund

11. To ensure that more resources are available to help those affected by fare increases, the FRMC had recommended mandatory contributions by the public transport operators (PTOs) to the Public Transport Fund as a form of sharing their gains with commuters. The amount of contribution, ranging from $20 \%$ to $50 \%$ of the fare adjustment granted, could vary depending on the PTOs' profitability.
12. In view of the PTOs' financial position and the granting of the full fare adjustment quantum, the PTC decided that SBS Transit and SMRT are to set aside $25 \%$ (or $$ 5.5$ million) and $30 \%$ (or $$ 8.0$ million) respectively of the additional fare revenue due to the fare increase. This is higher than the contributions from the 2013 Fare Review Exercise, where SBS Transit and SMRT contributed $20 \%$ (or $$ 7.2$ million) and $25 \%$ (or $$ 4.3$ million) respectively of the additional fare revenue due to the fare increase.

Highlights of Public Transport Operators' Applications

13. SBS Transit applied for a fare adjustment of $2.8 \%$. Citing the impact of escalating costs, its bus operations first went into the red in 2011 and made a loss in 2013. Staff costs had increased with salary adjustments and higher headcount to cater to a bigger bus fleet. The rail segment went into the red in 2013 due to losses for Downtown Line and rising staff costs for North East Line.
14. SMRT cited declining financial performance for its train business with LRT operations in the red since inception, while its bus business has been loss-making since FY2009. The operator cited mounting pressure in operating costs since FY2010. Major cost items include expansion in fleet size, salary reviews for bus captains, tightening of maintenance regime, and replacement of railway sleepers. SMRT had proposed a fare adjustment of $2.8 \%$.

[^0]:    ${ }^{1}$ The Public Transport Council (PTC) granted an overall fare adjustment of $3.2 \%$ in the 2013 Fare Review Exercise. This was about half of the combined 2012 and 2013 fare adjustment quantum of $6.6 \%$, with the remainder of $3.4 \%$ carried over to the 2014 Fare Review Exercise to be considered together with the 2014 fare adjustment quantum.
    ${ }^{2}$ The 2014 fare adjustment quantum is negative due to the negative full-year energy index in 2013. The lower energy prices in 2014 will be reflected in the 2015 fare adjustment quantum, which can be determined only around April 2015. Based on currently available data and estimates, the quantum is expected to be in the region of $-1 \%$.

[^1]:    ${ }^{3}$ Second quintile households refer to the $21^{\text {st }}$ to $40^{\text {th }}$ income percentile of resident households and they are typical public transport users. The PTC also tracks the second decile ( $11^{\text {th }}$ to $20^{\text {th }}$ income percentile) households to better ensure affordability of our public transport fares for low-income groups.

[^2]:    ${ }^{4}$ Data for the FAI is computed based on the findings from the Household Expenditure Survey for 2003, 2008 and 2013 released by the Department of Statistics.
